

Excellence in made-to-measure pewter countertops " LES ZINCS "

www.ateliers-nectoux.fr

WHO WE ARE

A Great French specialty, bar countertops, or “Comptoirs”, first appeared in the XIXth century. Usually called « le Zinc », they are actually made of pewter, a natural material.

In 1930, Marcel Nectoux opened his workshop rue de Charonne in Paris. Since then, his unique know-how has been transmitted through three generations. In 2019, Thierry Nectoux, his grand-son, passed it on to Maxime Dethomas.

Today, the Nectoux Workshops are one of the last craftsmen to pursue this activity.

We serve our historical clients: cafés, restaurants and brasseries of Paris, but also throughout France as well as the rest of the world: Europe, the United States, Asia, Australia, the Middle East.

The French created Bistrot cuisine has a bright future!

Our Pewter complies with EU and US hearth regulations. It is naturally antibacterial and antiseptic.

OUR EXPERTISE

Entirely handmade, Nectoux countertops are unique. Their unmistakable edge profiles stem from our traditional moulds (of which the eldest dates back to 1870).

For 90 years, we have used the same methods and tools to nurture and improve our expertise. There is no academic training to acquire our know-how. It is learnt here, at the Ateliers, with the elders. From the pewter melting to the finishing touches, the techniques are the ones of Marcel Nectoux, improved by his son Maurice (who managed the company from 1947 until 1997), then by Thierry. Since 2009, the Ateliers Nectoux have carried the hallmark « Living Heritage Enterprise*» which is awarded by the French Ministry of Economy and Finances. It is a token of appreciation which recognizes French enterprises with a know-how of excellence.

Our Pewter complies with EU and US hearth regulations. It is naturally antibacterial and antiseptic.

OUR COUNTERS IN FRANCE

“Les Comptoirs” are iconic. They characterise the French way of life.

As they embody the warmth of gatherings and feasts, they have grown beyond the spirit of the Cafés and Brasseries. You now find them in hotels, cosy restaurants, and even department stores to offer a privileged and timeless environment.

Each counter is unique. It adapts to any space and to any form.

OUR COUNTERS IN THE WORLD

The French “bistronomie” has crossed borders.

People from all over the world like to experience a zest of this way of life, where the warmth of a “comptoir” takes its central place. Today, enjoying French cuisine means, more and more often, to be close to a « zinc ».
